

BEST PRACTICE 2: (2020-21)

1. Title: ARPAN – ISR Activity

2. Objectives of the Practice: To sensitize students towards inclusiveness and social issues by creating awareness about the cause undertaken by the NGOs

3. The Context: The motto 'तत्सुखसुखित्वं' needed to be instilled in the students, therefore, the students are made a part of the process to promote social cause as part of ISR.

4. The Practice: The students are made aware of social issues. The NGO is first introduced to students during the induction program. Further, ways to propagate the NGO are identified and executed by channelizing resources and volunteers, formalizing the support through academic assignments, field projects, competitions, training programs, guest lectures.

5. Evidence of Success: The evidence of success can be seen through the embedding of this practice in curriculum itself. The outcome achieved can be measured in terms of the NGOs added, Volunteers associated, sensitization programs organized, events and activities conducted, assignments and field projects created, support in cash and kind provided etc.

6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

Problems encountered:

- Selection of NGO and the cause
- Scheduling interaction with students who are learning in two shifts
- Choosing the mode of support and designing/deciding the event/activity for initiating support
- Monitoring the outcomes of the efforts.

7. Notes : Other institutions need to take similar initiative by choosing different NGOs at local level. The choice of NGO should be limited to those NGOs which do not take any government aid and depend fully of philanthropy. The events/activities and assignments can be duplicated and shared.
